LEGISLATION RELATING TO FARMERS' INSTITUTES.

INTRODUCTION.

In order that legislation by the several States relating to the organization of farmers' institutes might be generally accessible to institute directors and workers, copies of the laws under which the institutes were organized were secured by this office in 1903 and were arranged and published as Bulletin No. 135 of the Office of Experiment Stations.

A revision of this bulletin was made August 1, 1905, embodying such modifications of the laws as had occurred since August 1, 1903. Since the date of this revision the institute laws in most of the States have been so modified by subsequent enactment as to make a second revision necessary. Copies of the old laws were accordingly sent to the several State directors of farmers' institutes with the request that where changes have occurred copies of the new laws be forwarded to this office to be inserted in the revised bulletin. The present revision includes legislation in force April 1, 1911.

An examination of the institute laws of the several States reveals the fact that while they differ in their form and requirements as well as in the authority which they confer and the amount of money which they appropriate, yet they are one in their purpose to aid farming people by affording them opportunity to secure the latest and most reliable information relating to agriculture and to receive definite instructions through a living teacher as to the application of these truths in their every-day practice.

STATE LEGISLATION.

ALABAMA.

The appropriation for farmers' institutes in Alabama is made to the department of agriculture and industries of the State, to be expended under the direction of the commissioner, and is as follows:

ARTICLE 6.—FARMERS' INSTITUTES AND AGRICULTURAL FAIRS.

(416.) FARMERS' INSTITUTES.—The commissioner is authorized and directed to adopt annually such measures as may be necessary to successfully conduct, in different sections of the State, farmers' institutes, consisting of lectures on subjects related to agriculture by persons of scientific attainments, and by practical and successful farmers, with discussions relating thereto, and of such exhibitions as may prove instructive and of practical value to the farmers of the vicinity where such institutes are held, a report of which, with a detailed statement of the money expended in that connection, must be embodied in his annual report.

(417.) EXPENSES OF INSTITUTES.—The commissioner is authorized to pay the necessary expenses incurred in conducting such farmers' institutes, including the expense of employing lecturers when necessary, and for distributing the reports thereof; and for this purpose there is annually appropriated, out of the funds of the department of agriculture and industries, three thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary to be paid for the monthly estimate and allowance for expenses of the department.

Approved February 28, 1889.

In addition to the State appropriation, the Alabama Polytechnic Institute appropriates annually the sum of $600 for institute purposes, besides giving the service of members of the college and experiment station staff to the equivalent of about $600 additional.

The legislature of 1911 made a continuous appropriation of $27,000 annually to the Alabama Polytechnic Institute for conducting extension work. An additional sum of $25,000 annually was appropriated by the legislature of 1911 to a board consisting of the commissioner of agriculture, the director of the Agricultural Experiment Station, the dean of the school of agriculture at the Agricultural College, and two members to be elected by the three named, for carrying on farm demonstration work, to be expended in cooperation with field demonstrations conducted in the State by the United States Department of Agriculture.

ALASKA.

Farmers' institutes have not yet been established in Alaska.

ARIZONA.

The Legislative Assembly of Arizona in 1909 provided for farmers' institutes by a paragraph in the appropriation to the University of Arizona as follows:

AN ACT Providing for the maintenance and continuation of agricultural and horticultural experiments and demonstrations by the University of Arizona Agricultural Experiment Station at the date orchards near Tempe and Yuma, Arizona; for dry-farming investigations in the northeastern and southeastern parts, respectively, of Arizona; for printing experiment station publications; and for continuation of farmers' institute lectures and short courses of instruction. * * *

SEC. 4. For the continuation and maintenance of farmers' institutes and short courses of instruction throughout the Territory, two thousand five hundred dollars.

Approved March, 1909.

ARKANSAS.

Arkansas has no farmers' institute legislation except that an appropriation of $8,000 for the biennial period 1910-11 was made by the legislature to the agricultural experiment station of the University of Arkansas for the purpose of holding farmers' institutes throughout the State.

CALIFORNIA.

CONNECTICUT.

Connecticut has no special law regulating the holding of farmers' institutes. The State board of agriculture, the Connecticut Dairy-men's Association, and the pomological society are all carrying on institute work in the State. These different organizations all draw money from the State for the benefit of agriculture in general; the dairymen's association for the dairying interests, the pomological society for the interests of fruit growing. The methods used by these different organizations for carrying out their work and disseminating useful information are entirely in their own discretion. Each however, has an institute committee appointed to have charge of institute work.

Where the citizens in any locality desire an institute, any one of these associations will furnish speakers free of expense. These different organizations have all held institutes during the past several years. Annual meetings are held in the winter by each of these organizations.

The Connecticut State Board of Agriculture requires "that localities applying for institutes shall furnish a suitable hall, local transportation for speakers and visitors, music if desired, and entertainment by collation or otherwise, unless there are convenient hotel accommodations." "The board pays for printing, traveling expenses, and services of the speakers." The authority under which the board acts in institute matters is through an act creating the State board of agriculture, which authorizes the secretary "to disseminate agricultural information by lectures or otherwise."

DELAWARE.

AN ACT Providing for farmers' institutes.

Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the State of Delaware in general assembly met:

SECTION 1. That hereafter a farmers' institute shall be held annually in each county of this State. The meetings for organizing these institutes, respectively, shall be called as hereafter provided; afterwards they shall be held at such times and places as the members thereof may, either in general meeting or by their executive committee, determine. The objects of these institutes shall be the discussion, orally or by written essays or papers, of agricultural and kindred matters, and for the dissemination of agricultural knowledge among the farmers of this State.

SEC. 2. The first meeting for the purpose of organizing shall be held in the county courthouse of each county, respectively, on the third Saturday of May, A. D. eighteen hundred and eighty-nine, at two o'clock afternoon; and each of the clerks of the peace of the several counties shall give notice in two newspapers in his county by two insertions at least one week apart, and the last one not more than one week prior thereto, of such meetings for organization. He shall also attend and call the meeting to order and preside until a president be chosen. The expense of notices so published shall be paid by the respective counties on bills approved by the clerk of the peace ordering them.

The notice shall be in this form :

NOTICE.—The farmers of ——— County are hereby invited to meet in the county courthouse on Saturday, the 18th day of May, 1889, at 2 o'clock afternoon, for the purpose of organizing a farmers' institute in pursuance of an act of the general assembly passed for that purpose.

May —, 1889.

Clerk of the Peace.

SEC. 3. The officers of the farmers' institutes herein provided for shall be a president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and executive committee of not less than five nor more than nine members, and such other and additional officers as may be provided for by the by-laws or resolution of the institutes, respectively. None of the officers shall receive any compensation or emolument whatever. They shall hold their offices for one year and until their successors be chosen.

(This section was amended at the 1903 session of the legislature by adding thereto the following proviso) :

"Provided, That the State board of agriculture may appoint a director of farmers' institutes for the State, to cooperate with the farmers' institutes of the several counties. The compensation of the said director shall be fixed by the State board of agriculture, which said compensation shall not exceed the sum of one hundred dollars per annum, and which said compensation shall be paid from the funds appropriated by the State to the said State board of agriculture."

SEC. 4. For the purpose of defraying the incidental expenses of holding the institutes herein provided for the sum of six hundred dollars annually is hereby appropriated, to wit, two hundred dollars to the institute of each county, respectively, to be paid to the respective treasurers thereof on the certificate of the president and secretary that he is duly authorized to receive the same.

SEC. 5. Each institute shall be the judge of the qualifications and regulate the admission of its own members, and may also make and alter rules for the regulation of its own proceedings. The failure to hold an institute as herein contemplated in any one year shall forfeit its appropriation for that year.

Passed at Dover, March 29, 1889.

Under an act of the legislature the law which created the State board of agriculture was amended by adding to its powers and duties the following: "To devise and execute measures necessary for the agricultural development of the State." Under this authority, in addition to the $600 specifically appropriated for institutes, an additional amount may be granted by the State board for this purpose.

FLORIDA.

The Legislature of Florida at its session of 1910 appropriated the sum of $15,000 for the years 1910 and 1911 for carrying on farmers' institutes. The manner of conducting the work is determined by the board of control. The director of the experiment station has been designated as the executive officer in charge of institute work.

GEORGIA.

No special appropriation for farmers' institutes as such has been made by the Legislature of Georgia. The act of 1910, under which institutes are conducted, provides $60,000 for maintenance of the State college of agriculture, of which $10,000 shall be used for extension teaching.

HAWAII.

There are no laws in this Territory relating to farmers' institutes.

IDAHO.

Farmers' institutes in Idaho are under the direction of the board of regents of the university and are supported out of an appropriation made for agricultural college extension. The director of the agricultural experiment station has been placed in charge of the work as executive officer of the board.

ILLINOIS.

REGULATIONS FOR CONDUCT OF INSTITUTE WORK.

In view of the provisions in recent institute act for effecting and promoting permanent local organizations, and for meeting the expenses of the local associations, and in accordance with the provisions of the original act creating the farmers' institute system in Oklahoma, the State board of agriculture announces the following general policy and plan of conducting the work under the existing laws:

1. The State board of agriculture will, as heretofore, select a superintendent of institutes and such additional and suitable persons as shall be necessary to conduct the institute work under the provisions of the laws governing institutes, and the rules and regulations of the board.

2. The State superintendent of farmers' institutes, under authority from the board, will, with the advice of the county officers, arrange the schedule of meetings, reserving the right to fix the time and place of same and assign the State speakers.

3. The State board of agriculture will use the State appropriation to pay for the services and traveling expenses of the superintendent and of State speakers, the general supervision of the work, and for such further improvement and extension of the farmers' institute work as the funds will permit.

4. The local expenses of farmers' institutes, such as hall rent, extra speakers, postage, printing, stationery, advertising, etc., will be met from the fund derived from membership dues supplemented from the appropriation from the county treasury, as provided for in the institute act of 1909.

5. The State board of agriculture authorizes and directs the county institute organization and auxiliary associations, acting together upon the request of the State superintendent of farmers' institutes, to advise said officers as to the time, places, and subjects desired for meetings to be held in the county the ensuing year.

6. The State board authorizes and directs the county institute association, including auxiliary organizations (where they exist or may be formed) to arrange for, and duly advertise the meeting or meetings announced in the schedule of farmers' institutes, and properly conduct the same under such regulations as may be prescribed by said board, and promptly make official report of each meeting held to the State superintendent.

7. The State board of agriculture announces that the nature of the institute work permits the discussion of a wide range of subjects bearing upon agriculture, horticulture, animal husbandry, dairying, truck farming, gardening, the home, the school, the highway, rural improvement, relation of town and country, and the development of the agricultural resources of the locality; but it also recognizes that the above-named subjects can be presented without in any way involving political, sectarian or factional or personal discussion.

The board, therefore, rules that all subjects of a purely factional, political, personal, religious, sectarian, social or temperance nature should be excluded from the programs of the county farmers' meetings. All heated partisan or personal discussion at the meeting, upon any subject, is strictly prohibited. Speakers are instructed to urge, and presiding officers authorized and directed to secure the enforcement of above ruling. The discussion of public institutions, of farm and other organizations or of business enterprises, either for the purpose of advertisement, attack or defense, is not germane to the farmers' institute work and should, therefore, not be permitted.

8. The State board of agriculture directs that every meeting to which a speaker is assigned at State expense, or for which county funds will be expended, shall be open to the general public without restriction and without the payment of an admission fee.

OREGON.

The act providing for the holding of agricultural institutes and appropriating money for their maintenance is as follows:

SECTION 1. The board of regents of the State agricultural college is hereby authorized to hold institutes for the instruction of citizens of this State in the various branches of agriculture. Such institutes shall be held at such times and at such places as said board may direct. The said board shall make such rules and regulations as it may deem proper for organizing and conducting such institutes, and shall employ an agent or agents to perform such work in connection therewith as they may deem best. The course of instruction at such institutes shall be so arranged as to present to those in attendance results of the most recent investigations in theoretical and practical agriculture.

SEC. 2. For the purpose mentioned in the preceding section, the said board may use such sum as it may deem proper, not exceeding the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars in any one year, from the general fund, and such amount is hereby annually appropriated for that purpose.

Approved, ———, 1905.

There shall be one deputy secretary, who shall be appointed by the governor for a term of four years, at a salary of three thousand dollars a year, who shall also be director of institutes.

The same act, section 5, provides—

That it shall be the duty of the superintendent of institutes to arrange them in such manner as to time and places of holding the same as to secure the greatest economy and efficiency of service, and to this end he shall, in each county where such institutes are to be held, confer and advise with the local member of the State board of agriculture, together with representatives duly appointed by each county agricultural, horticultural, and other like organizations with reference to the appointment of speakers and other local arrangements.

PORTO RICO.

There has been no legislation in Porto Rico respecting farmers' institutes. The special agent in charge of the agricultural experiment station reports that an agricultural society has been organized and that $1,000 was appropriated for institute purposes last year.

RHODE ISLAND.

Farmers' institutes in Rhode Island are conducted under authority granted by the general assembly in an act passed May 19, 1892, section 4 of which is as follows:

The board shall hold one agricultural institute in each county annually, either independently or in connection with any society or association, or other organization devoted to the same general objects, and may hold as many more as it shall deem expedient, and shall, as far as practicable, encourage State and local associations and societies in the interests of agriculture.

The arranging for the holding of institutes is committed by the State board of agriculture to its secretary, and the expenses are paid by the board out of the annual appropriation of $20,000 appropriated for the purpose of carrying out the several provisions of the act by which the board is constituted.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

There is no specific law in this State for the holding of farmers' institutes. Institutes, however, are held under authority granted by the board of trustees of Clemson Agricultural College.

There is organized in the college a division of extension work and farmers' institutes, with a principal and two assistants. The arranging for the institutes is left entirely in the hands of the superintendent of this division.

The above appropriation of $5,000 has been increased by act of legislature of 1910 to $13,000 per year for the two years 1910 and 1911.

AN ACT Empowering, authorizing and directing the payment of the expenses of holding and maintaining farmers' institutes in counties where the same shall be held.

Be it enacted by the legislature of the State of South Dakota:

1. That in all counties in the State of South Dakota wherein there is held what is commonly termed a farmers' institute, consisting of a program for education and instruction upon matters relating to agriculture, horticulture, and the breeding and raising of stock, which said institute shall be held at least annually, and where there shall be an organization of agriculturists and per-

3. Whereas, there is no law relating to the payment of expenses of farmers' institutes, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this act shall take effect and be in force on and after its passage and approval.

Approved, March 3, 1905.

TENNESSEE.

Tennessee has no special law governing farmers' institutes. The legislature makes an appropriation to the department of agriculture to be used by the commissioner for institute purposes. The commissioner selects the lecturers, arranges the programs, and decides the places and times for holding the institutes.

Under an act of legislature establishing the Texas department of agriculture approved April 4, 1907, subdivision 3 of section 11, is the following provision for regulating farmers' institute work—

He (the commissioner of agriculture) shall cause to be held farmers' institutes at such times and places throughout the State as will best promote the advancement of agricultural knowledge and improvement of agricultural methods and practices. He shall publish such papers and addresses read or delivered at these institutes as he shall deem to be of value to the farmers' interests.

The thirty-first legislature appropriated $5,000 for the year ended August 31, 1910, and $5,000 for the year ending August 31, 1911 "for conducting institute work" by the department.

VIRGINIA.

CHAPTER 351.

AN ACT To constitute a united agricultural board to coordinate the Virginia College of Agriculture and Polytechnic Institute and the Virginia Agriculture Experiment Station, the commissioner and State board of agriculture, and the State board of education, in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture for the betterment of agricultural, experimental, and demonstration work, and generally to advance the agricultural interest of this State, and to authorize boards of supervisors to appropriate county funds for experimental and demonstration work in their respective counties.

Whereas experiments heretofore conducted have demonstrated that in order successfully to encourage the adoption of improved methods of agriculture in Virginia, applicable to every section, crop, and interest, it is necessary that experiment stations shall be located in the different agricultural districts of the State, which should ascertain by careful scientific experiments the best methods of crop rotation, fertilizing, culture, control of insect pests, and diseases, et cetera, of the crops most commonly grown, or which may be profitably grown in the respective districts, and that the facts so ascertained shall be carried by the teacher, institute lecturer, and demonstrator to the people; and

Whereas it is necessary to the fullest success of this plan that the said Virginia College of Agriculture and Polytechnic Institute, and the Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station, the commissioner and State board of agriculture, and the State board of education should unite their agencies in harmonious and determined efforts to advance by the methods above set forth, and in every other legitimate and practical way, the great agricultural interests of the State; and in order to coordinate harmoniously the efforts of these various State agencies in hearty cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture which has been so successfully conducting its operations along these lines in Virginia: Therefore,

1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia, That a board to be known as the united agricultural board be, and the same is hereby, established, to be composed of the governor; the State superintendent of public instruction, representing the State board of education; the commissioner of agriculture; and two members of the State board of agriculture, to be selected by that board; the president of the Virginia College of Agriculture and Polytechnic Institute; the director of the Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station; and one member of the board of visitors of those institutions, to be selected by the said board; the supervisor of the district experiment stations; the general director of demonstration work of the United States Department of Agriculture; and the Virginia director of demonstration work of the United States Department of Agriculture. The members of said board shall hold office during the term of incumbency of the several offices which render them ex officio members of this board, except that the State board of agriculture and the board of visitors of the Virginia College of Agriculture and Polytechnic Institute and Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station shall have power to elect a successor to its members of the board for two-year periods, beginning March first, nineteen hundred and ten, or in the interim whenever its member of the board is incapacitated from serving on said board by death, resignation, or otherwise. It is further provided, also, that the officials of the United States Department of Agriculture, herein designated as members of the board, shall continue in office so long as that department cooperates in the work for which the united agricultural board is established.

The officers of the board shall be the governor as chairman, and a secretary, to be elected by the board.

2. The members of the united agricultural board shall not be entitled to any compensation, but the Virginia members shall be reimbursed for their actual and necessary traveling expenses and hotel bills while engaged in the discharge of their duties, to be paid out of the funds hereinafter mentioned, allotted respectively to the State agencies entitled to membership on the board.

3. The united agricultural board shall, under such rules and regulations as it may prescribe, assign to the Virginia College of Agriculture and Polytechnic Institute the adult demonstration work and movable schools and other like agencies when established; to the Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station, under like rules and regulations, the establishment and direction of the local or district experiment stations; to the State board of education, under like rules and regulations, the experimental and demonstration work in connection with the public schools of the State; and to the commissioner and State board of agriculture, under like rules and regulations, the direction and management of the farmers' institutes to be held in the different sections of this State; and the said united agricultural board may adopt such other methods and agencies, not herein specifically enumerated, as shall tend to further the interests of agriculture, and assign to the various agencies represented on the united board such duties as may seem best.

4. For the purpose of carrying this bill into effect, in addition to the money allotted by the United States Department of Agriculture and the general education board, acting through the United States general director of demonstration work, and from other sources, the State board of education is hereby directed to appropriate and set apart out of the common school fund the sum of five thousand dollars annually; the sum of five thousand dollars shall be paid annually to the commissioner of agriculture; the sum of five thousand dollars shall be paid annually to the Virginia College of Agriculture and Polytechnic Institute; the sum of five thousand dollars shall be paid annually to the Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station, out of any fund in the treasury of the State not otherwise appropriated; said several sums of money to be paid by warrants authorized by the united agricultural board, signed by its secretary and countersigned by the chairman; provided, that all moneys appropriated under this act shall be used for the purposes of this act. But nothing in this act shall apply to any funds except those mentioned in this act. And the moneys allotted to the commissioner of agriculture shall be used for farmers' institutes; the moneys allotted to the Virginia College of Agriculture and Polytechnic Institute shall be used for adult demonstration work, movable schools, et cetera; and the money allotted to the Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station shall be used for experimental work at the local or district experiment station, established or to be established, and for no other purpose; and the money appropriated by the State board of education shall be used for experiments and demonstration in connection with the schools of the State. An itemized statement, with all vouchers, shall be reported to the governor, and included in his annual report.

5. If it shall appear to the board that any of the work required by this act, or which shall be prescribed by the board, is not being faithfully and efficiently performed by the agency to which it is assigned, the board shall at once inquire into the matter and has the power to take action assigning said work to some other agency, or in any other way that may seem best for the faithful and efficient performance of said work. The moneys provided and appropriated under this act shall not be available prior to the twenty-eighth day of February, nineteen hundred and eleven.

6. The board may determine its own by-laws and rules of procedure, except that a meeting may be called at any time by the chairman on ten days' notice, and the secretary shall issue calls for a meeting of the members of the board, giving ten days' notice, upon request in writing of not less than five members, and it shall require a majority vote of the entire membership to pass any question or resolution coming before it. In case of a tie vote the governor shall be entitled to cast an additional deciding vote.

7. The boards of supervisors of the several counties of the State are hereby authorized and empowered to appropriate out of county funds for experimental and demonstration work in their respective counties such sums as the said boards shall deem proper, not to exceed twenty dollars for each one thousand inhabitants.

8. But nothing in this act shall apply to the Virginia Truck Experiment Station.

Approved, March 17, 1910.

WASHINGTON.

Section 192 of the session law of 1897 of the State of Washington, in defining the objects and purposes of the Washington Agricultural College and School of Science, declares that "one of the objects of said college shall be to hold farmers' institutes at such times and places and under such regulations as the board of regents may determine."

The Legislature of the State of Washington in 1909 appropriated $17,500 to the State college of Washington for two years ending June 30, 1911, for extension work in agriculture.

WEST VIRGINIA.

The law under which farmers' institutes are held in West Virginia is that which established the State board of agriculture and prescribes its duties. The parts of the act relating to farmers' institutes are sections 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9, which are as follows:

SEC. 5. It shall be the duty of said board to look after and devise means of advancing the agricultural interests of the State; to promote and encourage as far as practicable the holding of farmers' institutes, the organization of agricultural and horticultural societies and other associations in the interest of agriculture in the several counties of the State.

It shall have charge of the preparation of manuscript, the printing, publishing, and distribution, by mail and otherwise, of such documents and reading matter as they may deem best for the agricultural interests of the State. And said board shall include in its publication the methods of farming in use, the variety of stock and crops grown, the special capacities and aptitude of the soils to the various products of the latitude and climate, the needs of the farmers, and such other matters as will convey a proper idea of the agricultural resources of the State to practical men. They shall have authority to request of any State official, or any official in any county, city, or town, any and all statistical and other information the board may desire. It is hereby made the duty of all State and county officers to assist in every way possible, and cooperate with the board, upon their request, to the end that the welfare and interest of agriculture may be promoted. It shall hold farmers' institutes for the instruction of the farmers of the State in the various branches of agriculture.

Such institutes shall be held at such times and places, in each year, as said board may direct. The said board shall make such orders and regulations as it may deem proper for organizing and conducting such institutes, and may employ an agent or agents to perform such work in connection therewith as they may deem best.

The course of instruction of such institutes shall be so arranged as to present to those in attendance the results of the most recent investigations in theoretical and practical farming.

SEC. 6. It shall be the duty of the secretary to attend all meetings of the board, keep a careful record of all their proceedings, in proper books, provided by the board, and keep on file all papers relating to the office.

To issue, under direction of the board, a monthly, a bimonthly, or quarterly publication, containing crop reports, agricultural statistics, and such other matter as the board may determine. He shall, before the assembling of each regular session of the legislature, compile a report giving a general review of agriculture, horticulture, and industrial resources of the State, with brief notices of each county, and the character of the public roads in the several counties, and how and by whom operated and kept in repair; the character of labor generally employed in the cultivation of the soil, and the prices paid therefor, and a report of the various institutes held during each year, and such other information as he is required to gather; and he shall have a sufficient number printed for the use of the legislature and for general distribution, and perform such other duties as the board may prescribe.

SEC. 7. The board shall report all its proceedings biennially to the governor, showing in detail the manner of its execution of the provisions of this act, which, together with the publication and report named in section six, and such incidental printing as may be necessary shall be printed by the public printer and paid for same as other public printing.

SEC. 8. The secretary shall have a permanent office at the capitol, under the control and supervision of the board, which shall be supplied and maintained at the expense of the State.

SEC. 9. A sum not exceeding three thousand dollars is hereby annually appropriated out of any funds in the treasury not otherwise appropriated for the support and maintenance of the board, including per diem of members, salary of secretary, necessary expenses of the board and secretary while attending meetings, and all other incidental expenses connected with and growing out of this department of the State government, which shall be paid on the order of the board, signed by the president and secretary.

While the law specifies that $3,000 be appropriated for the department, the appropriation bill which is passed at each regular session of the legislature provides the funds for the work of the board and takes precedence over all former bills. The annual appropriation at present is $15,000, including the salaries, of which from $8,000 to $10,000 is set aside for institute work each year.

FEDERAL LEGISLATION.

Direct Federal aid to farmers' institutes began with the act making appropriations for the Department of Agriculture for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1904, which provided "that five thousand dollars [of the sum appropriated for the Office of Experiment Stations] shall be used by the Secretary of Agriculture to investigate and report upon the organization and progress of farmers' institutes in the several States and Territories and upon similar organizations in foreign countries, with special suggestions of plans and methods for making such organizations more effective for the dissemination of the results of the work of the Department of Agriculture and the agricultural experiment stations and of improved methods of agricultural practice."
